The college organised Faculty development program for teaching and non-teaching staff on 6th – 11th December, 2021. The Principal Dr M. Venugopal, Vice Principal Mr Sai Venkata Krishna, HOD's and all the staff members attended the session. The Principal, Dr M. Venugopal in his welcome address pointed out that the staff play a vital and significant role in the development of an organisation

Mrs. Sri Rajani the Key note speaker delivered an informative session. He explained that the Intellectual property rights (IPR), Patent have gained increased understanding and recognitions in the past few decades due to the roles they serve in promoting knowledge and economic progress, Copyrights, Design, Trademarks & patents. He discusses in broad terms various intellectual property rights and related issues pertaining to the engineering profession. He said that the benefits of these rights to the discipline are of great importance and should be embedded in engineering courses and is expected to tremendously contribute to better application, utilisation and protection of these rights.

Mrs. Rajani made it clear that Building a high performance team involves more than just randomly assembling a group of talented individuals and Engineers are often on the front line of innovation. As consultants, they also share intimate details of their clients' designs, materials, products, and processes highly confidential work. Some scientists, however, are more interested in focusing on the technology and don't always realize the finer (or more nebulous) points of protecting IP. The session ended with vote of thanks by the co-ordinator Mr. P. Anjaliah, after presenting momento to the speaker followed by lunch to all the participants.

The college organised Faculty development program for staff on 22nd – 27th Nov, 2021. The Principal Dr. Venugopal, Vice Principal Mr Sai Venkata Krishna, HOD's and all the staff members attended the session. The Principal Dr M. Venugopal in his welcome address pointed out that the awareness of the importance of IP is not universal and in today's interconnected electronic age, preventing IP theft faces many challenges.

Dr. A. Venkata Jithan the Key note speaker delivered an informative session. He explained that the Intellectual Property is the root of the intellectual development of any country. With the robust development of IPR, the old and some of the existing management constructs and approaches would have to change. From striking a balance between IP rights protection and public policy to promoting IP rights education, Indian legislature has made efforts to implement better IP rights enforcement and protection. Judiciary has not been far behind in contributing to the development of IP rights. Litigation regarding trademarks, copyrights and patents has set new precedents, with the Indian courts adopting international principles and rulings to protect IP rights in order to deter infringers.

Dr. Jithan made it clear that Intellectual-property in Technological Innovation & value creation are significant drivers of GDP and employment rates in both developed and developing countries. Intellectual property-dependent businesses are an essential and rising element of every contemporary economy, especially as these economies move away from agricultural, mineral, and low-value-added industries and toward higher-value products and services. The session ended with vote of thanks by the coordinator Mr. S.Venkateswara Rao after presenting momento to the speaker followed by lunch to all the participants.

The college organised Seminar for Teaching staff on 20-1-2020 to 25-1-2020 at 10.00 am. The Principal Dr M. Venugopal, Vice Principal Mr Sai Venkata Krishna, HOD's and all the staff members attended the session. The Principal Dr M. Venugopal in his welcome address pointed out that the staff play a vital and significant role in the development of an organisation

Dr. K.G.S. Venkatesan the Key note speaker delivered an informative session. He explained that the Research Methodology on Data Analysis methods have gained increased understanding and recognitions in the past few decades due to the roles they serve in promoting knowledge and economic progress, Qualitative, Quantitative and Mixed – Methods, Data Collection Methods, Probability & Non - Probability Sampling, Data Analysis Methods & Test a set of Hypotheses. . He discusses in broad terms various Research Methodology methods and related issues pertaining to the engineering profession. He said that the benefits of these rights to the discipline are of great importance and should be embedded in engineering courses and is expected to tremendously contribute to better application, utilisation and protection of these rights.

Dr. Venkatesh made it clear that Building a high performance team involves more than just randomly assembling a group of talented individuals and Engineers are often on the front line of innovation & Data Collection Methods. As consultants, they also share intimate details of their clients' designs, materials, products, and processes highly confidential work. Some scientists, however, are more interested in focusing on the technology and don't always realize the finer (or more nebulous) points of protecting Research Methods. The session ended with vote of thanks by the co-ordinator Mr .B.Sudhakar after presenting momento to the speaker followed by lunch to all the participants.

The college organised Training and development program for non-teaching staff on 2nd – 7th March, 2020. The Principal Dr Venugopal, Vice Principal Mr Sai Venkata Krishna, HOD's and all the staff members attended the session. The Principal Dr M. Venugopal in his welcome address pointed out that National IPR Policy, 2016 is a giant leap by the Government of India to spur creativity and stimulate innovation. It lays the roadmap for the future of IPRs in India.

Dr.G.Sudhakar delivered an inspiring and informative session. He said that Intellectual Property (IP) refers to creations of the mind: inventions; literary and artistic works; and symbols, names and images used in commerce. IP is protected in law, for example, by patents, copyright, and trademarks. The IPRs enable people to earn recognition or financial benefit from what they invent or create. An IPR policy could be proven to be a cornerstone of innovation and creativity for academia. It provides structure, predictability, and framework to create and innovate.

Dr.G.Sudhakar said that the model guidelines promote student-led start-ups and ventures and help them to protect and respect IP, The Patents Act, 1970, Legal Aspects (Act, Rules, and Procedures) , Concept of Patent; Product / Process Patents & Terminology & P. The overall aim of the guidelines is to nurture the spirit of innovation and translate the innovations into products, processes, and services for commercial exploitation. The guidelines aim to contribute in transforming industry and society, by delivering research-led education, promoting innovation, collaboration and fostering human values. The session ended with vote of thanks by the co-ordinator Dr.KGS.Venkatesan after presenting memento to the speaker followed by lunch to all the participants.

About Event:

Impact of stronger IPR protection on technology diffusion is ambiguous in theory and depends on a country's circumstances. On the one hand, stronger IPR protection could restrict the diffusion of technology, with patents preventing others from using proprietary knowledge and the increased market power of IPR holders potentially reducing the dissemination of knowledge due to lower output and higher prices, Utility models, Trade secrets & Geographical Indications. Digital technology is already critical for many modern businesses and it has accelerated the need across nearly every industry.

The college organised Faculty development program for staff on 10th – 15th Feb, 2020. The Vice Principal Mr Sai Venkata Krishna, HOD's and all the staff members attended the session. Mr Sai Venkata Krishna in his welcome address pointed out that Intellectual property rights (IPRs) encourage innovation by granting successful inventors temporary monopoly power over their innovations.

Dr. Parameshwar the Key note speaker delivered an informative session. He explained that the impact of stronger IPR protection on technology diffusion is ambiguous in theory and depends on a country's circumstances, Utility models, Trade secrets & Geographical Indications. On the one hand, stronger IPR Regime could restrict the diffusion of technology, with patents preventing others from using proprietary knowledge and the increased market power of IPR holders potentially reducing the dissemination of knowledge due to lower output and higher prices. Digital technology is already critical for many modern businesses and it has accelerated the need across nearly every industry.

Dr. Parameshwar made it clear that emerging Trends in IPR Regime may encourage technology transfer through increased trade in goods and services, FDI, technology licensing and joint ventures. Despite this theoretical ambiguity, the diffusion of technology from countries at the technological frontier to other countries. The session ended with vote of thanks by the co-ordinator Dr.J.Sundar after presenting memento to the speaker followed by lunch to all the participants.

The college organised Faculty development program for teaching and non-teaching staff on 18th – 23rd Feb, 2019. The Principal Dr M. Venugopal, Vice Principal Mr Sai Venkata Krishna, HOD's and all the staff members attended the session. The Principal Dr M. Venugopal in his welcome address pointed out that the staff play a vital and significant role in the development of an organisation

Dr. K.G.S. Venkatesan the Key note speaker delivered an informative session. He explained that the Intellectual property rights have gained increased understanding and recognitions in the past few decades due to the roles they serve in promoting knowledge and economic progress, Patentable Inventions with Special, Patent Databases, Reference to Biotechnology Products entailing Creation of New Forms of Life & Patent search through Internet . He discusses in broad terms various intellectual property rights and related issues pertaining to the engineering profession. He said that the benefits of these rights to the discipline are of great importance and should be embedded in engineering courses and is expected to tremendously contribute to better application, utilisation and protection of these rights.

Dr. Venkat made it clear that Building a high performance team involves more than just randomly assembling a group of talented individuals and Engineers are often on the front line of innovation. As consultants, they also share intimate details of their clients' designs, materials, products, and processes highly confidential work. Some scientists, however, are more interested in focusing on the technology and don't always realize the finer (or more nebulous) points of protecting IP. The session ended with vote of thanks by the co-ordinator Mr .B.Sudhakar after presenting memento to the speaker followed by lunch to all the participants.

On the one hand, stronger Intellectual Property Right, protection could restrict the diffusion of technology & Intellectual Property Rights as Human Right, with patents preventing others from using proprietary knowledge and the increased market power of IPR holders potentially reducing the dissemination of knowledge due to lower output and higher prices, Intellectual Property as an Instrument of Development; Need for Protecting, Duration of Patents- Law and Policy Consideration, Intellectual Property Rights in the Cyber World & Negotiating Payments Terms in Intellectual Property Transaction. Digital technology is already critical for many modern businesses and it has accelerated the need across nearly every industry.

Mr. S. Venkateswara Rao the Key note speaker delivered an informative session. He explained that the Intellectual Property is the root of the intellectual development of any country. With the robust development of IPR, the old and some of the existing management constructs and approaches would have to change. From striking a balance between IP rights protection and public policy to promoting IP rights education, Indian legislature has made efforts to implement better IP rights enforcement and protection Intellectual Property as an Instrument of Development; Need for Protecting, Duration of Patents- Law and Policy Consideration, Intellectual Property Rights in the Cyber World & Negotiating Payments Terms in Intellectual Property Transaction. The college organised Faculty development program for staff on 19th – 24th March, 2018. The Principal Dr M. Venugopal, Vice Principal Mr Sai Venkata Krishna, HOD's and all the staff members attended the session. The Principal Dr M. Venugopal in his welcome address pointed out that the awareness of the importance of IP is not universal and in today's interconnected electronic age, preventing IP & Trade secrets theft faces many challenges.

Mr. Abdul Hafeez the Key note speaker delivered an informative session. He explained that the Intellectual Property, Trade Secrets, Trade Mark, patentable subject matters is the root of the intellectual development of any country. With the robust development of IPR, the old and some of the existing management constructs and approaches would have to change. From striking a balance between IP rights protection and public policy to promoting IP rights education, Indian legislature has made efforts to implement better IP rights enforcement and protection. Judiciary has not been far behind in contributing to the development of IP rights, Amendments to the Patents Act, Trade Secrets and Geographical, Patentable Subject Matter , Patentability Criteria, Patentable Subject Matter & Patentability Criteria. . Litigation regarding trademarks, copyrights and patents has set new precedents, with the Indian courts adopting international principles and rulings to protect IP rights in order to deter infringers.

Mr. Hafeez made it clear that Intellectual-property-based Trade secrets in industries are significant drivers of GDP and employment rates in both developed and developing countries. Intellectual property-dependent businesses are an essential and rising element of every contemporary economy, especially as these economies move away from agricultural, mineral, and low-value-added industries and toward higher-value products and services. The session ended with vote of thanks by the coordinator

The college organised Faculty development program for teaching and non-teaching staff on 3rd – 8th September, 2018. The Principal Dr M. Venugopal, Vice Principal Mr Sai Venkata Krishna, HOD's and all the staff members attended the session. The Principal Dr M. Venugopal in his welcome address pointed out that the staff play a vital and significant role in the development of an organisation

Dr. Harrison Sunil the Key note speaker delivered an informative session. He explained that the Intellectual property rights have gained increased understanding and recognitions in the past few decades due to the roles they serve in promoting knowledge and economic progress, Concept of Property Vs Intellectual Property, Intellectual Property Rights as Human Right, Negotiating Payments Terms in Intellectual Property Transaction & Intellectual Property Rights in the Cyber World. He discusses in broad terms various intellectual property rights and related issues pertaining to the engineering profession & management : Need and practice for Engineers. He said that the benefits of these rights to the discipline are of great importance and should be embedded in engineering courses and is expected to tremendously contribute to better application, utilisation and protection of these rights.

Dr. Sunil made it clear that Building a high performance team involves more than just randomly assembling a group of talented individuals and Engineers are often on the front line of innovation. As consultants, they also share intimate details of their clients' designs, materials, products, and processes highly confidential work. Some scientists, however, are more interested in focusing on the technology and don't always realize the finer (or more nebulous) points of protecting IP. The session ended with vote of thanks by the co-ordinator Mr.B.Sudhakar after presenting momento to the speaker followed by lunch to all the participants.

The college organised Faculty development program for teaching and non-teaching staff on 13th – 18th February, 2017. The Principal Dr M. Venugopal, Vice Principal Mr Sai Venkata Krishna, HOD's and all the staff members attended the session. The Principal, Dr. M. Venugopal in his welcome address pointed out that the staff play a vital and significant role in the development of an organisation

Mr.K. Madhu Babu the Key note speaker delivered an informative session. He explained that the Intellectual property rights (IPR) Laws, Copyright Law, Trade mark law, Patenting in India & other Jurisdiction, patent database & patent search through Internet. Patent Law have gained increased understanding and recognitions in the past few decades due to the roles they serve in promoting knowledge and economic progress. He discusses in broad terms various intellectual property rights and related issues pertaining to the engineering profession. He said that the benefits of these rights to the discipline are of great importance and should be embedded in engineering courses and is expected to tremendously contribute to better application, utilisation and protection of these rights.

Mr. Madhu made it clear that Building a high performance team involves more than just randomly assembling a group of talented individuals and Engineers are often on the front line of innovation. As consultants, they also share intimate details of their clients' designs, materials, products, and processes highly confidential work. Some scientists, however, are more interested in focusing on the technology and don't always realize the finer (or more nebulous) points of protecting IP. The session ended with vote of thanks by the co-ordinator Mr. P. Anjaliah, HOD ECE, after presenting momento to the speaker followed by lunch to all the participants.

The college organised Training and development program for Teaching staff on 20th – 25th Nov, 2017. The Principal Dr. Venugopal, Vice Principal Mr Sai Venkata Krishna, HOD's and all the staff members attended the session. The Principal Dr M. Venugopal in his welcome address pointed out that National IPR Policy, 2016 is a giant leap by the Government of India to spur creativity and stimulate innovation. It lays the roadmap for the future of IPRs in India.

Dr. C.S. Pattnaik, delivered an inspiring and informative session on IPR, Issues & Challenges. He said that Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) refers to creations of the mind: inventions; literary and artistic works; and symbols, names and images used in commerce, Copyright (Amendment) Act, 2012 Designs Act, 2000 & Geographical Indication of Goods (Registration and Protection) Act, 1999 Information Technology Act, 2000. IP is protected in law, for example, by patents, copyright, and trademarks. The IPRs enable people to earn recognition or financial benefit from what they invent or create. An IPR policy could be proven to be a cornerstone of innovation and creativity for academia. It provides structure, predictability, and framework to create and innovate, Law Relating to Trade Secrets Paris Convention & Patent Co-operation Treaty Patent Act, 1970.

Dr. Pattnaik, said that the model guidelines promote student-led start-ups and ventures and help them to protect and respect IP, Patent Rules, 2003 & Patent (Amendment) Rules, 2017. The overall aim of the guidelines is to nurture the spirit of innovation and translate the innovations into products, processes, and services for commercial exploitation. The guidelines aim to contribute in transforming industry and society, by delivering research-led education, promoting innovation, collaboration and fostering human values. The session ended with vote of thanks by the co-ordinator J.Sundar after presenting momento the speaker followed by lunch to all the participants.

About Event:

Impact of stronger IPR protection on technology diffusion is ambiguous in theory and depends on a country's circumstances. On the one hand, stronger IPR protection could restrict the diffusion of technology copyright, Trademark, Geographical indication & Trade secrets with patents preventing others from using proprietary knowledge and the increased market power of IPR holders potentially reducing the dissemination of knowledge due to lower output and higher prices. Digital technology is already critical for many modern businesses and it has accelerated the need across nearly every industry.

The college organised Faculty development program for staff on 14-3-2016 to 19-3-2016. The Vice Principal Mr Sai Venkata Krishna, HOD's and all the staff members attended the session. Mr Sai Venkata Krishna in his welcome address pointed out that Intellectual property rights (IPRs) encourage innovation by granting successful inventors temporary monopoly power over their innovations.

Dr. Sammaiah the Key note speaker delivered an informative session. He explained that the impact of stronger IPR protection on technology diffusion is ambiguous in theory and depends on a country's circumstances. On the one hand, stronger IPR protection, copyright, Trademark, Geographical indication & Trade secrets could restrict the diffusion of technology, with patents preventing others from using proprietary knowledge and the increased market power of IPR holders potentially reducing the dissemination of knowledge due to lower output and higher prices. Digital technology is already critical for many modern businesses and it has accelerated the need across nearly every industry.

Dr. Sammaiah made it clear that strong IPR protection may encourage technology transfer through increased trade in goods and services, FDI, technology licensing and joint ventures. Despite this theoretical ambiguity, the diffusion of technology from countries at the technological frontier to other countries. The session ended with vote of thanks by the co-ordinator Dr.J.Sundar after presenting momento to the speaker followed by lunch to all the participants.
